HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS FROM THE TYNGSBOROUGH POLICE DEPARTMENT

ADULTS: Welcome trick-or-treaters with your porch lights and any exterior lights on. Patrol your street occasionally to discourage speeding motorists, acts of malicious mischief and crimes against children. Report any suspicious or criminal activity to your police department immediately. For Tyngsborough call 911 from a land line or 978-649-7504 from your cell.

Do not give homemade or unwrapped treats to children.

MOTORISTS: Exercise extreme caution when driving a vehicle. Be on the alert for excited youngsters, whose vision may be obscured by masks, darting out into traffic.

TRICK OR TREAT TIPS

Make sure your kids dress up safely • Make sure costumes are flame retardant so children aren't in danger near burning jack-o-lanterns. • Keep costumes short to prevent trips, falls, and other bumps in the night. • Try make-up instead of a mask. Masks can be hot and uncomfortable, and they can obstruct a child's vision, a dangerous thing when kids are crossing streets and going up and down steps. • Make sure kids wear light colors or put reflective tape on their costumes.

Make trick-or-treating trouble free • Create a map of a safe trick-or-treating route and set a time limit for your children to "trick-or-treat". • Trick-or-treaters should always be in groups so they aren't a tempting target for real-life goblins. Parents should accompany young children. • Make sure older kids trick-or-treat with friends. Together, map out a safe route so you will know where they are going. Tell them to stop only at familiar homes where the outside lights are on. • Try to get your kids to trick-or-treat while it's still light out. If it's dark, make sure someone has a flashlight and pick well-lighted streets. • Do not go inside anyone's home. Remain on the porch at all times. • Do not accept rides from strangers. • Remind kids to keep a safe distance from moving cars. • Cross only at street corners, never between parked cars, and never diagonally across an intersection. • Look in all directions before crossing the street, and obey all traffic signals. Walk, never run, across the street, and use sidewalks, not the street, for walking. • Do not take shortcuts through back yards, alleys or parks. • Do not eat any treats until parents have inspected them. • Discard any homemade or unwrapped treats.

Check all treats before eating • What to eat? Only unopened candies and other treats that are in original wrappers. • Don't forget to inspect fruit and homemade goodies for anything suspicious. • By all means remind kids not to eat everything at once or they'll be feeling pretty ghoulish for while!

Halloween can be a lot of fun for parents and kids alike--if everybody remembers the tricks and treats of playing it safe.

AGING IN PLACE

By Edward H. Adamsky, Esq.

Aging in place is the "gold standard" for seniors, at least according to many working in the senior care fields. But, is it really a viable alternative to retirement homes, assisted living, nursing homes and other care options? It is appealing to consider staying in the home you have known and loved for all of your life, but most homes and communities are not designed to provide for the needs of people as they age. There are some options and ideas that are working, so you might want to consider these concepts as you get older.

You might want to lobby your town to reduce or eliminate some of the costs for projects to adapt homes. In Sausalito, California an advocacy group worked with municipal officials to start a program where building permits are free or reduced-cost when the project is under $10,000 in total and its goal is to provide accessibility for elders or the disabled. This can save many people hundreds of dollars on the cost of making a home elder-friendly.

In Porto, a town in Portugal, they have a program where they match up older residents with students who need a place to live. The older people get companionship and some assistance, and the younger people get free housing in exchange for their help to the senior. This system works to reduce social isolation and loneliness among elders, which can be tied to poor health and decline. This program could work anywhere so consider trying to start one in your community.

There are several programs around the US and the world where not-for-profit agencies coordinate repairs and upgrades to seniors' homes. Sometimes for reduced cost and sometimes for free. You should look around to see if there are any near you, or advocate for them in your area if none are available. Sometimes the difference between staying home and having to go to a nursing home is some simple home repairs or alternations.

Another program idea that can really help people stay at home is having assistance with some of the normal household chores such as cleaning, repairs and safety enhancements. In northern New Jersey a program (cleverly called "CHORE") helps older residents continue living in their homes by providing volunteers to make minor home repairs. In addition to actually making repairs, the volunteers often just chat with the elder and provide a level of companionship and look out for other problems (physical, social, or medical) that might otherwise be overlooked.

In most towns around here, your local Senior Center (sometimes called a Council on Aging) is the first place to look for any programs that might help you. Also, our Area Agency on Aging (Elder Services of Merrimack Valley) is a larger agency that has many programs designed to help seniors stay at home. If you are planning to stay at home as you age, you need to do a lot of research and planning to make sure you remain healthy and happy at home as you Age in Place.

INVASIVE PLANTS ARE A SERIOUS ISSUE!

by Sustainability Tyngsborough member Amy Pozerski

Invasive plants are not typically on most people's radar. However, as climate change continues to progress, now is when we need to start taking this topic seriously. Invasive plants are always non-native to our area and most times very aggressive. These plants are prolific in large part because their natural predators don't live here. If nothing is feeding on these plants, their population can explode quickly and crowd out native plants that are so important to our local wildlife, mammals, and insects.

Black Swallow Wort (Cynanchum Louiseae): A perennial climbing vine that flowers in early summer and produces seed pods late July and early August. The seeds are spread by the wind. Monarch butterflies mistake the plant for milkweed and lay eggs on it, but the larvae cannot feed off this plant and end up dying.

Japanese Knotweed (Reynoutria Japonica): A perennial that can grow from three to fifteen feet tall, it has bamboo-like stems and can tolerate many different soils and levels of shade. The seeds spread by wind, water, animals, and humans. Japanese Knotweed also spreads by underground roots and can even sprout from a piece of stem the size of a fingernail. Once it gets a foothold somewhere, it spreads like wildfire and can be nearly impossible to eliminate. It creates a mono-culture that makes an area uninhabitable to our native wildlife.

Purple Loosestrife (Lythrum Salicaria): Mainly found in damp areas and wetlands, it has showy purple flowers arranged on flower spikes. The plant spreads primarily by seeds. Each mature purple loosestrife plant can produce up to 2.7 million seeds annually! This plant creates dense thickets in wetlands, crowding out habitat for wetland wildlife and altering the movement of water within the wetlands.

Oriental Bittersweet (Celastrus Orbiculatus): A woody vine that grows rapidly and clings to anything up or down that it comes in contact with. It can easily climb trees up to 100 ft tall! It is spread by seed and fruits, eaten by birds and deposited. It also spreads by underground roots. The vines grow in diameter as they twine around tree trunks and literally chokes the plant that it is clinging to. Due to the weakened plant and the weight of the bittersweet vine, tree canopies can come crashing down when you least expect it. To see pictures of these invasive plants and get pointers on this topic, see online version at www.neighbortoneighbornewsletter.com

EDUCATION FOUNDATION FOR TYNGSBOROUGH

EFT has decided to take a year off from our annual Tyngsborough Trot 5K. We are exploring moving the race course and seeing if we can make it part of a bigger town-wide event. In place of the Trot, we will run a direct request campaign fundraiser. Watch for our fundraiser campaign, which we hope to issue in the fall.

EFT needs more members and volunteers! We are especially looking for parents of elementary and middle school students. What a great way to get involved in your town. You can start small or go all in with us. There are little jobs and big jobs that need to be done. Or you can start attending our board meetings to see if EFT is the right group for you to join.

Please contact our President, Theresa Manning, at eftyng@gmail.com. An easy way to support our efforts is to start your Amazon shopping at smile.amazon.com and designate the Education Foundation for Tyngsborough as your cause. Together we are bridging the gap. Like us on Facebook!

GOD GIVES US MORE THAN WE CAN HANDLE

By Nathan Combs

I have often heard it said by other Christians (and have often repeated it myself) that "God never gives us more than we can handle." In other words, we will not face overwhelming physical and emotional experiences that are beyond our amount of strength. God always ensures that our pain, sorrow, and stress is kept at a manageable level. Although our lives might prove challenging, everything happens within our scope of control.

This perspective sounds reassuring at first glance. However, since the Bible doesn't teach it, God must have a healthier perspective that's better for us and more glorifying for him. Yes, God does promise a way of escape from every temptation to sin (1 Corinthians 10.13), but he absolutely allows us to face situations that far exceed our limited capacities to understand or cope with them. Let's first prove this from Scripture before we discuss why he does so.

As he begins the letter of 2 Corinthians, the apostle Paul wrote that he and his companions were given more than they could handle. "For we do not want you to be unaware, brothers, of the affliction we experienced in Asia. For we were so utterly burdened beyond our strength that we despaired of life itself. Indeed, we felt that we had received the sentence of death." (2 Corinthians 1.8-9). Paul is probably referring to his ordeal in Ephesus, when the entire city was stirred up against him, causing his quick departure after living there for three and a half years (Acts 19.23-41). Although Paul was moved by God's Spirit to speak the message of Jesus, possessed the ability to perform mighty miracles, and stood as an eyewitness to the resurrected Lord, Paul was flesh and blood like you and me. The fog of discouragement he felt was so powerful that he could not see through it.

Why did God allow Paul to go through this situation? Fortunately, Paul directly answers this question in the last half of 2 Corinthians 1.9 - "But that was to make us rely not on ourselves but on God who raises the dead." Remember, Paul had just said that he felt he had "received the sentence of death." Even Paul, with all his spiritual maturity, needed a reminder of God's ability to do what is impossible for man to accomplish. There are few events that so clearly show the exclusive hands of God more than the resurrection accounts in Scripture. Dead people come back to life only through the power of God (1 Kings 17.17-24, 2 Kings 4.32-37, Luke 7.11-17, Mark 5.34-43, John 11.39-44, etc.).

Situations like Paul's have the potential to teach us valuable lessons we could not receive any other way. It is liberating to know that I don't have to be strong enough to withstand the forces of life because I serve a God who is. Thank God that he does give us more than we can handle, because in those those occasions he wants to give us himself.

On June 25, 2019, the Altrusa Club of Merrimack Valley hosted a scholarship dinner at the 110 Grill in Chelmsford, to honor the memory of Katherine M. Richo, recently deceased member of Altrusa and active leader in the Nashua Community. Brooke McCarthy of Tewksbury, who is currently enrolled in the Bachelor of Science in Nursing Program at Rivier University was awarded a $500 scholarship in honor of Katherine Richo, who was a critical care nurse by profession and an instructor in the nursing program at Rivier.

Altrusa continues to provide birthday parties for the children living with their teenage mothers at Brigid's Crossing in Lowell. The children celebrating birthdays in June and July respectively, Josyah (2) and Ousmane (3), each received an educational toy and an age-appropriate book. The other children received age appropriate books instead of goodie bags. And of course there is always cake, juice and hoodies.

Mindful of Altrusa's motto of Patriotism, Efficiency and Service, the Altrusa Club of Merrimack Valley delivered seventeen (17) electric razors to the staff of the Memory Care Unit (62D) at the Veterans Hospital, Bedford, MA to assist them in their compassionate care of those who served and sacrificed so much for this country.

Altrusa is looking forward to another successful year of service in our communities. Please email altrusamv@gmail.com if you are interested in joining other volunteers in making a difference in the lives of others in our communities.

COMING HOME TO CATHOLICISM

is a program offered by St Kathryn Parish, 4 Dracut Rd Hudson, NH as a two Session Retreat on consecutive Saturdays, October 19th and October 26th from 10 AM to 2 PM. The program is for those who have left the Catholic Church, for any reason, and might be feeling the calling to return.

All of the Team members have left the Church at one time and have returned, providing a comfortable and understanding atmosphere for others looking to return. The program is designed to answer most of the questions returning Catholics might have and some discussion to address any individual concerns (don't worry; participants can share as little or as much as they'd like).

Anyone interested can contact the parish office at 603-882-7793, or visit our website www.stkathryns.org/chc. Registration is required. Feel free to bring a friend.

Pastor Bobby Ross pastorbobby@dunstablechurch.org

DECC is a welcoming church at the heart of the Dunstable community. "We gather to glorify God, to grow in Christ and to live the gospel in the world."

SCHEDULE CHANGE! Last month Sunday worship time changed to 10:30am and Christian Education/Sunday School for children and adults at 9am-10:15am.

WORSHIP: Pastor Bobby leads our worship services which feature a variety of music, scripture readings, corporate prayer, and spoken messages, with Communion (the Lord's Supper) served on the first Sunday of the month.

EDUCATION: Join us this fall as we look at God's complete redemptive story that starts in Genesis and ends in Revelation. Following the "CASKET EMPTY" program, a Summary of the Bible, we'll cover the Old and New Testaments in a historical progression, showing how they work together to create the biggest, best story that has ever been told. Classes meet at 9am Sundays in the church fellowship hall, and 7pm Tuesday evenings at the parsonage. Adults, young adults, and children K-6 are invited. The class program on Tuesday is the same as on Sunday.

CHILDCARE: Childcare for infants through kindergarten is available both during Sunday School hour and the worship service.

FELLOWSHIP: Everyone is welcome to an informal time of fellowship with coffee, tea, and refreshments after the service.

DECC YOUTH GROUP: All area youth in grades 6-12 are welcome! On Sep 15th, the group gathered for a cookout at Sunshine Overlook Orchard and enjoyed apple picking, cider press, outdoor 'trust' games, a zipline and a bonfire. Regular meetings will be held on Sundays 4-6 pm at the Dunstable Evangelical Congregational Church, unless otherwise noted. The Yankee Peddler in Early America

From the mid-1600s in New England to the rise of the automobile after WWI, peddlers were a major factor in getting items to remote locations. The presentation will include where they went, how they travelled, how were they paid, who became a peddler, where did they stay while on the road, how were they viewed, what ended most peddling, and more! Cal Knickerbocker will present this interesting program.

• Saturday, November 9, 2019 at 2:00 p.m.

Vanished Veterans – NH's Civil War Monuments and Memorials
New Hampshire towns did not erect monuments to prior wars, but the emotional and family toll, unprecedented in American history, drove the decision to honor our local soldiers and sailors of the War of Rebellion. George Morrison will present how he located, inventoried, and photographed the fascinating variety of New Hampshire's Civil War memorials. This program is free and open to the public through a grant from the NH Humanities' Humanities to Go! Speaker's Bureau.

Exhibit Title: The Quiet World of Aging

Exhibit runs through November 2, 2019

Lowell Exhibit Features Portraits Taken in the Final Life Phase

Lowell, MA – "The Quiet World of Aging" by Melinda Reyes is a collection of observations and moments portraying the many faces of aging -- the beauty, sorrow, joy, despair, and most importantly the dignity with which these individuals carry out their last days. It takes viewers into direct contact with diversity of emotions within the aging process. A celebration of their history made evident in the details and richness of their eyes, hands, posture, and lines on their skin. It seeks to make what is hidden, seen, and to make those who feel invisible, visible. By photographing at a close distance, the series offers a penetrating window into the complexities of this final life phase.

Melinda Reyes is a photographer based in Massachusetts who sees herself as a "visual storyteller". Trained at Rochester Institute of Technology where she earned a B.F.A. in Photography, Melinda spent her 20's traveling the U.S. and Europe and worked in studios, labs, and galleries across the country. In 1987-88 she attended the year-long Photography Residency program at Salzburg College in Austria. She became invested in social issues and advocacy and in 1997 began a Master's degree in Social Work at Simmons College and began turning to photo documentaries in an effort to initiate awareness and change in vulnerable populations like children, homeless, and the elderly.

When not shooting documentary's she turns her camera toward capturing the beauty and essence of flowers in creating close-up Fine Art B & W and Color Photographs. She also works part time as a freelance photographer specializing in Portraiture.

Exhibit Title: Choice Works by Haroon Khimani

Exhibit runs through November 2, 2019

Beauty from Chaos

Lowell, MA – "Choice works by Haroon Khimani" features a series of bold acrylic collages. Khimani finds inspiration in an unconventional place. "I seek to discover the beauty of nature, mostly in collapsed structures and disasters, natural or man-made. Beauty has a new definition for me," he said. Khimani searches for forms of beauty in chaotic settings.

Haroon Khimani began his career as a fine artist after completing his degree in Fine Arts from the Faculty of Fine Arts, M.S. University, Baroda, India. He transitioned to a career in the textile industry continuing his background in art with focus on designs on fabric where he progressively grew to heading up design departments at large textile companies in India. However, Khimani's passion for art has drawn him back to painting after a professional career of forty years. Having resumed painting over the past one and a half decades, his focus has been initially on oil but more so acrylic on canvas, and now introducing multimedia as well. He has exhibited his art at numerous exhibitions globally including the US (Boston area), India, and Dubai.
